

Green Seed of the Week

A weekly sustainability tip for our Q300 Community

Use kitchen towels, dishtowels and rags instead of paper towels.

Paper Towel Challenge! Can you go one week without using a single paper towel? How about a month? Reusing washable cloth towels and rags means less waste and less greenhouse gases. It also means more trees, a healthier environment and money savings in your pocket.

Paper comes from trees which are our natural partners in absorbing greenhouse gases from the environment. Deforestation has threatened whole tree habitats which minimizes our planet's ability to balance carbon emissions and the world's temperature. Hence the arrival of climate change, more extreme natural disasters and an increase of endangered animals.

Reduction Meter - This week's tip benefits our planet and ourselves by reducing:

 Waste  Transport Pollution  Land Use & Degradation  Air Pollution
